

Don Beck, Ph.D. is MSR's President and CEO. Don has 35 years of experience conducting customer, brand and employee survey research. Before joining the MSR Group he served as a managing partner for Gallup, survey design and measurement expert for both McKinsey and Booz Allen and Hamilton. He established and served as Director of the U.S. Department of Energy's Office of Public Accountability where he established the public trust and confidence survey tracking program. Don received his Ph.D. in Sociology from Washington State University with an emphasis in survey research and methods.